A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Three bipartisan amendments to the Administration's labor bill were adopted by voice vote in the Senate yesterday. They would require employers, as well as unions, to bargain collectively and file financial statements, and would extend the guarantee of free speech to both sides in any dispute. The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill increasing basic and incentive pay, allowances and disability retirement for all grades of the armed forces.

Senate and House conferees, breaking the long deadlock over bills to permit the President to reorganize executive departments, agreed to permit a single branch of Congress to veto any change, but only by a majority vote of the entire membership.

The House Rules Committee decided not to clear any more appropriations bills until a complete picture of contemplated Government spending and revenues was before it.

Two Senate committees are going to look into controversial subjects. One will open an investigation into the proposal for a co-ordinator to stabilize industrial relations in the coal industry. The other will try to find out why gasoline prices continue to rise in the face of plentiful

Walter Dietz Honored By Ayrshire Association

For distinguished success as a breeder of Ayrshire dairy cattle, Walter Dietz, Spring Creek Farm, Yardley, has been presented the "Constructive Breeder Award" by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

In order to qualify for this honor, which is considered the most coveted prize in dairy cattle circles, it is necessary for the herd to excel in production and type, and in addition a high percentage of the herd must have been bred and developed by the owner. The Spring Creek cattle were given a rigid physical inspection by official judge James M. Cochrane, Bath, N. Y., who scored the herd 872, placing it among the top 10% of the breed on type characteristics. Three members of the herd were designated as "Excellent," which is the highest rating given any Ayrshire; while nine others were classified as "Very Good," which is the second highest score.

On a strictly twice a day milking schedule, the entire milking herd of 20 head averaged 9,453 pounds of 4% milk. No less than 90% of the herd was bred or owned by Dietz for at least four years. The herd is under the management of Ed. Augspurger.

This is the third award of this kind presented to Dietz.

EXONERATE FATHER IN DEATH OF CHILD

Philadelphia Coroner "Only Too Glad" to Discharge
George D'Amico

TRAGEDY ON MAY 15

The father of little Anita D'Amico has been exonerated of any blame in her death which occurred on Sunday, May 15th, when the child was evidently hurt from the running board of her father's truck after she had climbed there without his knowledge.

The one cleared by a coroner's jury in Philadelphia is George D'Amico, of 99 Railroad avenue. The inquest took place yesterday in Philadelphia, the child having died in a Philadelphia hospital a few hours after the accident.

A Bristol police officer, John Sackville, testified before Chief Deputy Coroner Matthew A. Roth, and a jury in the annex of Philadelphia city hall, that D'Amico was backing out of his yard when the tragedy occurred.

In discharging the localite, Roth stated: "You've had enough trouble. I'm only too glad to discharge you."

The child is survived by her parents; two sisters, Sandra, six, and Lorraine, nine. It was as Mrs. D'Amico went to the door to call her three daughters to breakfast that she saw Anita on the running board, just an instant before the accident occurred.

MORTGAGE INCREASED

DOYLESTOWN, June 16 — Mrs. Dorothy McHugh Vavrik Doylestown, RD 2, who testified in court, here, before President Judge Hiram H. Keller, assured him that nearly every girl when she is depressed goes out and buys something, even if it is a mink coat.

A former Hollywood bit player and understudy, the blonde-tressed Mrs. Vavrik, who had her husband Albert Vavrik arrested on a desertion and non-support charge, told the Court she had to have the mortgage raised from $1900 to $3900 in order to buy a mink coat.

"My husband was in the service and I was depressed, so I went out and bought a coat," she said. She testified that her husband drank his coffee without using a saucer beneath the cup which annoyed her. "I tried to break him of the habit."

WATER SHORTAGE HAMPER SOME TOWNS

Morrisville and Yardley
Both Feel Effects of Drought

SUPPLY TO IMPROVE

The drought has caused a water shortage in some communities of Bucks County to the extent that some rationing has been necessary. In Morrisville water was rationed for a day or two but yesterday it was stated the supply had been improved.

The Yardley Water and Power Co. yesterday reported that its patrons in the higher areas again had water during the hours of peak demand, but users were cautioned to refrain from using water for sprinkling purposes except between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. and between 10 p. m. and 6 p. m.

The current shortage was brought about by the drought and repair work being done on the company standpipe. Repairs have been completed on the pipe, however, according to company officials. They added that during the 12-week repair period "excessive pumping was unavoidable and has been a contributing factor in the present situation."

Consideration of the present shortage was promised by the water company today, and what was described as "a long-term solution" to the problem will be sought by the board of directors in the near future.

Sweeney, Bell Company
Representative

TO TREAT CHILDREN

PENNDLE, June 16 — The Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club learned about the operations of a telephone and received many tips on telephone courtesy by Robert Sweeney of the Bell Telephone Co., at the dinner meeting held on Tuesday evening at the Royal Gardens, Bensalem township.

Joseph Law, for many years an employee of the Bell Company in this area, introduced the guest speaker, Robert Sweeney, district plant wire chief of Langhorne area.

Mr. Sweeney impressed the club with a number of pointers on telephone courtesy. He said, "Be sure to have the right number whenever you make a call; in dialing, wait for the dial signal before dialing; speak clearly and be polite in your conversation. A good motto to follow is: 'Phone as you'd be phoned to.'" He also explained in detail the parts of a phone and how they operate; he exhibited several types of phones and said that obsolete phones will be replaced in time with newer models; he also gave a few words of advice on how to take care of a phone.

Final arrangements were completed by president Paul Sauerby to take 100 children to Shibe Park, Philadelphia, to see a baseball game between the Athletics and the St. Louis Browns on June 18th.

Supervisors Preparing To Have Law Drafted
By Solicitor

LICENSE TAXICABS

FALLSINGTON, June 16 — The supervisors of Falls Township report making progress in having the township readied for a zoning and building code. Fred W. Beans, Raymond Pope, Charles Shisler, Lewis Bellardo and Herbert Bowen have been named as a committee with Beans serving as chairman.

Chairman Beans and the committee will procure some one to lay the township out in various districts and then a public hearing will be held. Following the public hearing, the supervisors will instruct its solicitor to prepare a zoning ordinance.

Harrison H. Carver, chairman; Clifford Watson and Charles Appenzeller are the supervisors who authorized the preparation of the zoning and building code which will be discussed at the public hearing to be held in the near future.

The need for zoning has long been felt since the township is largely agricultural with Kings, Starkey, Patterson and the PM vegetable and produce farms having large land holdings in the area.

Following in the footsteps of other communities the supervisors also passed an ordinance which will license taxicabs operating in and out of the township.

The license fee is $25 for each cab and the local township officials took action similar to that taken by Morrisville Borough Council and the city of Trenton.

GRAVEST QUESTION

Is there any fire under all the smoke of rumor swathing the huge shape of the B-36 bomber? The House Armed Services Committee has been ordered to find out and has been equipped with the necessary power to subpoena witnesses and records.

In the resolution adopted by the House, the committee is instructed to inquire into "all facts relating to when this bomber was purchased, any cancellation of other aircraft procurement that may have resulted from such purchases."

That appears to be sufficiently comprehensive to insure a thorough investigation.

It at least offers enough latitude so that all the facts bearing on the relations between Defense Secretary Johnson, President Floyd Odlum of Consolidated Vultee, and Air Secretary Symington can be brought out. Will the inquiry also settle the question of whether the B-36 is invulnerable to jet fighters?

How the decision to concentrate on the B-36 came to be made is of great importance. The public is entitled to know whether any factors other than the military effectiveness of this plane had any bearing on the matter. But the most important question is: Was it wise to single out the B-36 above other weapons and were those who made the choice justified?

It is the duty of the committee to recognize to the full the gravity of its task and insist on getting them straight. It could hardly have a heavier responsibility. The safety of the nation may rest on its collective shoulders.

PURGE IN RUSSIA

In spite of the efforts of the Soviet government to keep the world in the dark on what goes on in Russia, there is evidence available indicating a political purge is taking place in the Soviet Union.

At least 300,000 members of the communist party have been expelled, including several who were high in the councils of the party. Many have just dropped out of sight.

The Russian people are becoming restless under the communist yoke. Voice of America broadcasts are having an effect upon the people's morale. To offset this Moscow is increasing its propaganda.

Soviet citizens who claim to have visited America report in a magazine article that wretched poverty is the rule here. This is merely a mild sample of the lies deliberately designed to misinform the Russian people.

Full significance of the present purge cannot be understood at this time. But there is proof that a wholesale shakeup is taking place, proof that all is not going well for the Soviet regime. Forced labor camps and prisons are increasing. The day of another Russian revolution cannot be delayed indefinitely.

Model Plane Meet To Be Held July 4th

The meet will start at 8 a. m. and is scheduled to continue until every contestant has flown his plane. late in the afternoon. Registrations will be accepted on the field the day of the meet. The Navy will throw open its hangars and workshops for the use of the modelers throughout the day.

The Navy's display is slated to include pilotless missiles, bombs developed by the Navy, a captured Japanese kamikaze plane, and the new P2V-2 Lockheed long-range patrol craft. The latter is identical with the Truculent Turtle which recently established the world's record for a long distance non-stop flight.

Another exhibit will be a Grumman P-51, the last propeller-type plane developed by the Navy. All planes and exhibits may be viewed by the public.

Squadrons of Navy planes will drone over the field at intervals during the meet, and volunteer Navy personnel will police the field and aid in the handling of crowds. In addition, Pennsylvania State Police will be on hand to direct traffic in the vicinity of the meet. Extra Route 74 buses will be provided by the Philadelphia Transportation Co. to take spectators and contestants from Willow Grove to the air field. True to the tradition of these hobbyists, the meet will be held rain or shine.

Naval authorities will provide facilities for the convenience of visitors, and the Red Cross will provide first aid. Food will be supplied by the Navy at cost. Eleven stands will be spotted over the 260-acre field, stocked with "hot dogs", milk, cookies, candy and ice cream. Admission to the show is free.

In welcoming the hundreds of model plane contestants, along with the thousands of enthusiasts who follow the sport, Capt. E. W. Rounds, commanding officer of the station said, "We believe that the modelers of today are the airplane designers of tomorrow, and the Navy welcomes the opportunity to play host for this important model airplane meet. It seems particularly appropriate that such an event should be held on Independence Day."

Women Agree to Sponsor Boys' Club in Autumn

The Women's Auxiliary of Fleetwing Estates met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Harrison.

After the meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Carl Lindberg, Mrs. Robert Hyatt, secretary, reported on facilities for a group outing. It was found that only a few members would be able to go on the tentative date of June 25th, and it was agreed to postpone the trip until fall.

Information about Cub Scouts was given, after the treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. William Eckstein. Members decided against trying to form a cub pack at present since only about three boys here would be eligible.

Paul Nicholas, Airacobra street, told the women about his plan for a club in the Estates, for boys from about six to 11 years. Mr. Nicholas has had considerable experience working with boys; in Lansdowne he organized a small group of boys in a cub pack which grew to over 300 membership. He said he would like to organize a group of boys here, in the fall, to take up many subjects which are also found in Scouting: hobbies, outdoor games and activities, nature study, etc. The women expressed themselves as in favor of such a club, and agreed to sponsor the organization when formed. The first Saturday after school starts was suggested as the best time for the first meeting of the boys. A contest for the best name for the club will be held then, in which the Auxiliary will offer $1 to the boy submitting the winning name.

Summer creative classes for the boys and girls in the Estates will not be held until after the end of Vacation Bible School Registration and the first classes will be during the first week in August.

Chiffon cream and two cakes, one decorated with a flag in honor of Flag Day, were served by Mrs. Harrison at the end of the meeting.

Past President Mrs. Ralph T. McComas and delegates to the county federation meeting presented reports which recalled achievements of the year.

Mrs. Holmes gave a talk concerning the educational value of the park to the community and to the country at large. She said few people are aware of the broad

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THE housewife who is both efficient and energetic can invariably be distinguished by her ability to skillfully blend brevity, variety and economy into the preparation of fine meals for her family. To maintain this reputation she carefully husbands a store of menus specifically designed to emphasize these qualities.

Baked meat pie, prepared according to recommendations of the A & P Service for Homemakers, is certain to prove a welcome addition to such a collection. Speed of preparation, coupled with real economy, keynotes this meal.

It is based on a combination of the housewife's favorite canned stew, biscuit mix and various condiments and seasonings, with several variations suggested for use according to individual tastes.

First empty as much of the canned stew as needed into a baking dish. Then prepare a crust from a biscuit mix and cover stew. Place in a hot (450°F.) oven and let bake for about 20 minutes. To add greater interest and flavor the housewife might add a teaspoon of celery seed to the mixture before blending it with the liquid. Another variation calls for the addition of chopped parsley or caraway seeds. Also possible is the addition of a pinch of a favorite herb, curry or paprika. Tomato juice, used as the liquid for mixing the biscuit topping, will add both color and flavor to the pie.

AUSTRIAN TEEN-AGER
GIVES IMPRESSIONS

Eighteen-year old Ferdinand Popper recently returned to her home in Vienna following a visit to the United States as a representative of her high school.

(In the following article Miss Popper tells about "forgetting" her intentions to be sophisticated and just "having a grand time" with American teenagers. She compares American and Austrian boys and girls and relates how the Americans were "horrified" to find that co-education was non-existent for most Austrian high-schoolers.—INS)

By Ferdinand Popper
(Written especially for INS)
VIENNA, (INS) — June 16 — A few weeks ago I came back from the United States. During my three-month stay I visited many American high schools all over the country, from New York to Los Angeles, and lived with many different families. Therefore, I had a good opportunity to get to know American teenagers.

I am a teenager myself, but I was struck by the differences in life and mentality between the European and American youngsters. School life is much more fun for the kids in the States than for the majority of European students. First of all, there is co-education. Most of the American students were horrified, when I told them that only a very small percentage of the Austrian schools are co-educational.

The boys could not imagine going to school without their lovely school-mates for whom they can show off their skill in sports. And the girls would not know for whom to make themselves pretty at school—why to wear lipstick and nail polish, if it were not for their "football heroes."

Are the American teen-age boys much different from the boys in Austria? I think they are, in some ways. When they are together with girls they are more natural than Austrian boys are. I think the reason for this is American co-education.

Boys are used to being together with girls and therefore they don't try to be as sophisticated as Austrian boys, who just see their girls for a Saturday date in most cases. Also I think American boys are more forward than our boys are.

In Austria a boy occasionally kisses his girl's hand when he says good-night after a date. In America a boy would not think of passing by the goodnight kiss that he gets after a date.

Are American girls more sophisticated than Austrian girls? Well, I really don't think so. When I came to the U. S. I always tried to behave like a lady, but when I saw how much fun the American girls have — just laughing and carrying on like children, I forgot all about my intention of being sophisticated and had a good time with them, just like the rest of the gang.

I would say in general that I didn't find too much sophistication among American teenage girls and I thought it was much nicer that way.

As for American kids being spoiled I think there is plenty of reason for them to be. Nevertheless, although most of the time somebody is around who is willing to fulfill their wishes and do things for them, I still don't think they are spoiled.

Generally speaking, I would say that the Austrians are trained better in scholastic knowledge, but American teenagers are far ahead of us socially.

I loved the gaiety and carefreeness of American school kids. Their worries don't go much further than winning or losing the next basketball game or what to wear at the next dance.

Someone who comes to the States for a very short time might get the impression that American teenagers only have very superficial interests and that they are a little immature.

The circumstances under which they grow up are the reasons for that fact. Most of them are raised in sheltered atmospheres and their parents take good care of them. Therefore they are not quite as serious as European adolescents who experienced the horrors of a cruel war and learned to worry about life and hunger.

But this air of superficiality fades away when you get to know them better. You find that some of them work in their free time to make money for buying food and clothes for friends they have in Europe.

It amazed me how deeply interested the youngsters are in world affairs and how enthusiastically willing they are to cooperate in whatever way possible to help the growth of international friendship among young people.

They welcomed me and 33 other European students from 16 different countries with open arms, open minds and open hearts. It didn't matter to them what country we came from as long as we were "swell pals."

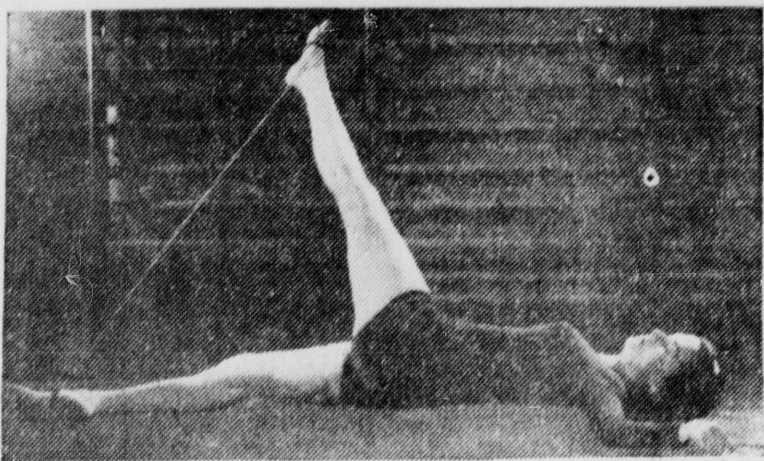

My American friends took me to dances, basketball games and soda-fountains, where I, for the first time in my life had one of their "ice cream sodas." They showed me around their home cities, showed me the "Empire State building" in New York and the "Beach of the Pacific" in Los Angeles.

I hope maybe some American kids will read this article. In that case, let me address this to the American teenagers:

"Hi, gang! An Austrian girl thinks a great deal of you. Thanks once more for all your friendliness. Believe me, I'll always stick up for my American friends, the teenagers. So long for awhile till I come back to see you on the other side of the pool that separates us physically but not mentally.

"And let's not forget our experiences in international friendship. Let the spirit of it linger in our minds so that through mutual friendship and understanding we may attain a world of friendship and lasting peace."

Get Rid of Extra Pounds

Courtesy Helena Rubinstein

Even though you have a lovely figure, exercise is needed to keep it that way. A famous New York Salon recommends the one shown here.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IF your curves are curvier than you want them to be, you can bump them off. Reducing exercises are a favorite indoor sport since summer fashions show frocks with neater waistlines than ever before. "My dear, you should have absolutely no tummy at all, just be flat prairie south of the belt!" The cure for bulges is painless, all you have to do is to put your muscles to work, and they will dispel the fat cells. Adipose tissues seek a lazy, peaceful life. They don't like activity. They go off and die. You can grind them down to nothing by bumping yourself.

To reduce hips and thighs sit down on the floor, hands braced behind you. Lift up on toes and hands, then come down on your knees with a good hard smack. Up on the hands and toes again, arching the body. After ten or twelve lifts, lie on your back, swing the left leg far to the right, rolling hard on your hip as you turn. Ten times with the left leg, ten with the right and repeat.

Over-Developed Arms

If you are afflicted with over-developed upper arms lie on the floor, feet close together, hands clasped on your chest. Roll from side to side, giving the arms a good smart spanking against the floor.

These exercises are recommended for localized fat. If there is too much plumpness all over, you will need to be a diet-watcher. Cut down on fats, starches and sweets—you probably get more of these elements than you need anyway—and live mainly on lean meat, poultry, fish and vegetables. No need of starving. No need of feeling like a martyr.

Take tea and coffee clear because cream and sugar are your enemies. Don't let anybody tempt you when the pastries are served. Drink buttermilk and unsweetened lemonade; they are good for you.

COTTON LEADS THE
CHOICE FOR SPORTS
APPAREL FOR SUMMER

By Miss Francis Vannoy

Home Economics Representative
Today's shopper has a wide variety of casual, attractive, and comfortable clothes from which to choose for the summer days ahead.

Cotton is probably the leading fabric for play clothes. Look for the words vat-dyed, sanforized, and crease-resistant when selecting garments or material by the yard. Women should also look for the words "wrinkle-shed" on cottons advertised for rainy weather wear. These features have done much to promote cottons for sportswear.

For active sportswear women are advised to look over the new long pedal-pushers, slacks, and shorts in sturdy cotton gabardine and denim. For swimming there are bathing suits of cotton, rayon, nylon, and wool. Designers are showing many terry cloth swim suits, stoles, and short beach coats.

Play shoes are available in gay, multi-colored styles or solid reds and blues, or in soft pastel shades. Straw or raffia seems to be the trend in handbags and shoes. Satchel type handbags seem to be most popular for casual fashions.

Style experts are featuring cotton peasant skirts for the young crowd to wear for square dancing. White cotton petticoats with ruffles or eyelet trim; and blouses of frilly batiste with plenty of lace and eyelet trim are designed to be worn with the skirts.

But remember, always wear what is most becoming regardless of what is popular. The person who is well dressed chooses clothes that suit her own figure and personality.

She Was Depressed; She Bought Mink Coat

Mrs. Vavrik, who said her husband deserted her April 27, admitted under cross-examination that she threw a chair into the Christmas tree, threw a stool at him while she was lying on the floor and he was "kicking" her, hurled a "small" coffee pot at him which missed him but sailed into the window breaking the windowpane. Another time, she said, she threw a cup or two while very angry.

"Your hands aren't very clean," said Judge Keller, who dismissed the case and refused to make an order on the husband.

"Do you mean to imply that my hands are dirty?" Mrs. Vavrik, stopping dead in her tracks as she left the witness stand, turned and asked the Court.

"You certainly annoyed and irritated your husband. When you come to court you want to be sure that your hands are pretty clean," the Court retorted.

"My lawyer isn't here now or he would have something to say for me," said the young prosecutrix as she walked out of the court room.

The defendant-husband, who resides on Ferry road, near Point Pleasant, did not testify since a divorce action is pending.

"What will I live on?" the actress wife asked.

"Your trouble is 50 per cent on your side and 50 per cent on your husband's side, so the Court will make no order at this time," Judge Keller ruled.

Make Pretty Lips Prettier With a Cheerful Expression

Whether you use a brush or lipstick, be thorough in applying your lip make-up, Movie Star Deborah Kerr says, and spread it evenly.

By HELEN FOLLETT

TINTING the lips with the ruby pencil makes pretty lips look prettier. It also makes a mean mouth look meaner, because it gives accent to it, calls attention to expression. The sad woman should ponder on that subject, endeavor to cultivate pleasing mouth lines. It is easy. All she has to do is to stop being a sour-puss, learn to be sweet. She will not only look better, but she will be happier, and so will the individuals who have to live with her.

Pressing the lips together in a tight line is a habit that does not help one along the beauty way. That expression is worn by the woman who disapproves of just about everything that other people say or do. She should cultivate tolerance. She will be rewarded by a more pleasing reflection in the looking glasses.

Spoiled Girl

Fouting lips belong to the spoiled darling who expects to be waited on and who is a "gimme" girl. She believes that the hand of fate is raised against her when, it is likely, the hand of fate is passing along the good things of life to her, which she does not appreciate. She must chuck that pose, and a pose it is, because it isn't pretty. She is another type that must give her lip ends a lift.

Facial expression is pretty much the whole good looks picture. Fine features are a wonderful inheritance for which any good looking girl should be ever grateful. But if you haven't been so blessed you can cultivate a radiance of countenance that will have greater appeal than casual loveliness.

Ply the lipstick; make your mouth as perfect as you can by spreading on the pigment evenly, blending it into the little creases with the lipstick brush. Then make your lips assume charming manners. Keep smiling. Smile when you are by yourself. That is good practice. Be ever mindful of the expression of your mouth. Also, keeping lip ends lifted strengthens the facial muscles.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Herbert Leswing, Jr., Rector
Church of the Redeemer
(Episcopal)
Andalusia, Pa.

The quiet moment... there are lots of ways to use it... some people spend it worrying. In other words, we don't always make the best use of that few minutes when there is nothing to do. For there is always something to do. You know how popular that book, "The Seven Storey Mountain," has become. It's about Trappist monks who spend most of their lives in silence and thinking about God. Meditation like that is the best use that we can make of those quiet moments when "there's nothing to do."

WASHINGTON WEEK

By CHARLES L. EGEVROAD

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16—Democrats and Republicans in the 81st Congress, who have received tongue lashings and worse from President Truman because their opinions of what is best for the nation differ from those of the Chief Executive, are wondering if Mr. Truman has forgotten that for which he said we fought the last war.

Those Democrats who have felt the sting of Mr. Truman's patronage purge and the Republicans who have been called "worse" by the White House are on the verge of making the President "eat some of his own words."

Seven years ago, the then Senator Truman of Missouri, arose in the Senate and spoke glowingly about the rights of Americans, Senators in particular, to disagree with their President whenever they felt like it without suffering the label of disloyalty as long as their differences were honest ones.

War for Right to Disagree

In fact, Senator Truman underscored the idea that we fought the last war to preserve the right to have differences of opinions in this country.

Because Mr. Truman has so completely reversed his position since becoming President and has so violently chastised all those in or out of Congress who do not adhere to his dictates, his "whipping boys" in Congress have dug up the words of the past to haunt their former colleague.

It all happened on February 3, 1942, and can be found on page 950 of the Congressional Record, Volume 88, part One.

The late President Roosevelt, himself possessor of a violent tongue for those who differed with him, had threatened recriminations against the then Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, because the latter did not see eye-to-eye with the White House on certain matters.

Senator Truman promptly became the champion of American rights although he boldly proclaimed he subscribed to Mr. Roosevelt's policies otherwise.

Truman Differed With E. D. R.

The Senator from Missouri, who had not the slightest idea at that time that he ever would be in a position to hold the whip, arose in defense of Senator Wheeler's right to differ with the President.

The stinger came in the last two sentences of the Truman speech which the downtrodden Democrats and the Republicans are now trotting out for haunting purposes:

"It is time that men cease to challenge the patriotism and loyalty of some of their fellow Americans simply because on some issue of the present day there happens to be some difference of opinion and an honest difference."

"It is to preserve the right to hold differences of opinion that we are entered upon the mightiest effort of our national career."

History will say we won that mighty effort, but some of us will always wonder.

Two of America's Most Popular Motor Cars

Pictured above are typical examples of the two smart and separate lines of cars which bear the current imprint of Pontiac goodness—the Streamliner and the Chieftain De Luxe Sedan Coupes.

Each is in such demand that, on its own, it ranks among America's most popular cars today. That two cars of such decidedly different appearance should each enjoy such wide acceptance is easy to explain. THEY'RE BOTH PONTIACS!

While each has its own individualized smartness, both offer all the great basic Pontiac virtues. Both are conspicuously beautiful. Both carry the well-known promise of Pontiac quality—long life, dependability, and fine performance. Both afford the smooth, enjoyable performance of Pontiac's two great engines—the power-packed straight eight or its equally famous six-cylinder companion.

Finally, both represent unusual values—a very fine product at a very low price. Either one you choose will make you mighty happy.

Hydra-Matic Drive, white sidewall tires, bumper using guards and fender shields available at extra cost.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By John Harris
(I. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, June 16—(INS)—You think your pasture is greener than your neighbor's you have an opportunity to prove it.

The Pennsylvania Production and Marketing Administration has set a deadline for entry into the 1949 Green Pastures contest for June 9. Area winners will be announced August 20, final winners August 25.

An added feature to the current contest will give new farmers or those that have just begun to lay trees on pasture a better opportunity to make a good showing of it, according to Administrator Lyde A. Zehner.

He called the new plan an "incentive" and said the PMA is encouraging county committees to earmark a portion of Federal funds for use to buy lime and super-phosphates for distribution to farmers who enter the contest. The pasture strengtheners will be sold to entrants on a 40-60 formula: farmers pay 40 cents out of each dollar and governmental funds absorb the remaining 60 cents, Zehner said.

The Lebanon County Committee already has approved the plan and there are in the process of getting up the machinery, he added.

Zehner said the contest, which comes two years old this year, has a "great deal of interest in the ranks of ex-servicemen farmers. Several of last year's winners were veterans," he declared.

"Former servicemen take their farming very seriously and indicate a desire to farm and conserve as scientifically as possible," according to Zehner.

"The lime-super-phosphate system helps the farmer in two ways," he pointed out. "He gets the fertilizer cheap and the 60 cents of governmental money goes toward buying more fertilizer."

The contest aims primarily at showing farmers throughout the state "what it takes to make a good pasture." Not only does the contest help the farmer in combating erosion, but it pays off, in the long run, in better and cheaper milk for the consumer.

Zehner said the State Milk Control Board sets prices on the cost of production. Better pastures result in richer milk and more of it and as the production costs go down, prices dip.

The Green Pasture contest leads off in an appropriate month, June—designated National Dairy Month. The effort of farmers to raise the quality of their pastures and consequently their cows and milk will serve to strengthen Pennsylvania's claim as third greatest producer of dairy products in the nation.

Dairy farming is the State's greatest agricultural industry, according to Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst. He said dairy farming gross income amounted to "more than $300,000,000 in 1948."

Ivan E. Parkin, extension dairy specialist at the Pennsylvania State College, has labeled a series of State-wide clinics on proper operation and care of milking machines a great success.

More than 6,155 persons, mostly farmers, attended the clinics. Many of them have reported improved operation of their machines and production of cleaner milk, Parkin said.

SCOUTS TO HOLD HUGE MASS ASSEMBLY SOON

Event Will Take Place Saturday and Sunday at Scout Camp

INCLUDES ALL DIST'S

The Bucks and Scouters of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a huge mass assembly at Camp Ockanickon next Saturday and Sunday, June 18th and 19th. This event, known as the Council Camporee, will include boy scout troops from all districts of the County and will be a camping event upon which each troop's experts in the various phases of the out of doors skills needed in a Boy Scout troop.

This event will be open to the public and will start at 1:00 p. m. on Saturday, June 18th and carries through the night. This event will come under the Council Camping & Activities Committee with Dr. A. J. Strathie, Chairman, Chief of the Judging Committee will be John Burrowswood, Assistant District Commissioner, of the Lower Bucks District.

In an unprecedented move, the Boy Scouts of America has lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting, effective next September 1.

In announcing the far-reaching change authorized by the National

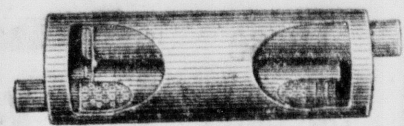

Executive Board of the organization Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said the decision was reached after a three years' exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents. After September 1, boys may become Cub Scouts at eight years of age instead of nine; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve and Explorers at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Three bipartisan amendments to the Administration's labor bill were adopted by voice vote in the Senate yesterday. They would require employers, as well as unions, to bargain collectively and file financial statements, and would extend the guarantee of free speech to both sides in any dispute. The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill increasing basic and incentive pay, allowances and disability retirement for all grades of the armed forces.

Senate and House conferees, breaking the long deadlock over bills to permit the President to reorganize executive departments, agreed to permit a single branch of Congress to veto any change, but only by a majority vote of the entire membership.

The House Rules Committee decided not to clear any more appropriations bills until a complete picture of contemplated Government spending and revenues was before it.

Two Senate committees are going to look into controversial subjects. One will open an investigation into the proposal for a co-ordinator to stabilize industrial relations in the coal industry. The other will try to find out why gasoline prices continue to rise in the face of plentiful

Walter Dietz Honored By Ayrshire Association

For distinguished success as a breeder of Ayrshire dairy cattle, Walter Dietz, Spring Creek Farm, Yardley, has been presented the "Constructive Breeder Award" by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association. In order to qualify for this honor, which is considered the most coveted prize in dairy cattle circles, it is necessary for the herd to excel in production and type, and in addition a high percentage of the herd must have been bred and developed by the owner. The Spring Creek cattle were given a rigid physical inspection by official judge James M. Cochrane, Bath, N. Y., who scored the herd 872, placing it among the top 10% of the breed on type characteristics. Three members of the herd were designated as "Excellent," which is the highest rating given any Ayrshire; while nine others were classified as "Very Good," which is the second highest score.

On a strictly twice a day milking schedule, the entire milking herd of 29 head averaged 9,453 pounds of 4% milk. No less than 90% of the herd was bred or owned by Dietz for at least four years. The herd is under the management of Ed. Augspurger.

This is the third award of this kind presented to Dietz.

EXONERATE FATHER IN DEATH OF CHILD

Philadelphia Coroner "Only Too Glad" to Discharge George D'Amico

TRAGEDY ON MAY 15

The father of little Anita D'Amico has been exonerated of any blame in her death which occurred on Sunday, May 15th, when the child was evidently hurtled from the running board of her father's truck after she had climbed there without his knowledge.

The one cleared by a coroner's jury in Philadelphia is George D'Amico, of 99 Railroad avenue. The inquest took place yesterday in Philadelphia, the child having died in a Philadelphia hospital a few hours after the accident.

A Bristol police officer, John Sackville, testified before Chief Deputy Coroner Matthew A. Roth, and a jury in the annex of Philadelphia city hall, that D'Amico was backing out of his yard when the tragedy occurred.

In discharging the localite, Roth stated: "You've had enough trouble. I'm only too glad to discharge you."

The child is survived by her parents, two sisters, Sandra, six, and Lorraine, nine. It was as Mrs. D'Amico went to the door to call her three daughters to breakfast that she saw Anita on the running board, just an instant before the accident occurred.

SHE WAS DEPRESSED; SHE BOUGHT MINK COAT

A former Hollywood bit player and understudy, the blonde-tressed Mrs. Vavrik, who had her husband Albert Vavrik arrested on a desertion and non-support charge, told the Court she had to have the mortgage raised from $1900 to $3900 in order to buy a mink coat. "My husband was in the service and I was depressed, so I went out and bought a coat," she said.

She testified that her husband drank his coffee without using a saucer beneath the cup which annoyed her. "I tried to break him of the habit."

WATER SHORTAGE HAMPER SOME TOWNS

Morrisville and Yardley Both Feel Effects of Drought

SUPPLY TO IMPROVE

The drought has caused a water shortage in some communities of Bucks County to the extent that some rationing has been necessary. In Morrisville water was rationed for a day or two but yesterday it was stated the supply had been improved.

The Yardley Water and Power Co. yesterday reported that its patrons in the higher areas again had water during the hours of peak demand, but users were cautioned to refrain from using water for sprinkling purposes except between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. and between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m.

The current shortage was brought about by the drought and repair work being done on the company standpipe. Repairs have been completed on the pipe, however, according to company officials. They added that during the 12-week repair period "excessive pumping was unavoidable and has been a contributing factor in the present situation."

Consideration of the present shortage was promised by the water company today, and what was described as "a long-term solution" to the problem will be sought by the board of directors in the near future.

TALK, FILMS FEATURE TELEPHONE COURTESY

Kiwanians Hear Robert Sweeney, Bell Company Representative

TO TREAT CHILDREN

PENNDLE, June 16 — The Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club learned about the operations of a telephone and received many tips on telephone courtesy by Robert Sweeney of the Bell Telephone Co., at the dinner meeting held on Tuesday evening at the Royal Gardens, Bensalem township.

Joseph Law, for many years an employee of the Bell Company in this area, introduced the guest speaker, Robert Sweeney, district plant wire chief of Langhorne area.

Mr. Sweeney impressed the club with a number of pointers on telephone courtesy. He said, "Be sure to have the right number whenever you make a call; in dialing, wait for the dial signal before dialing; speak clearly and be polite in your conversation. A good motto to follow is: 'Phone as you'd be phoned.' He also explained in detail the parts of a 'phone and how they operate; he exhibited several types of 'phones and said that obsolete 'phones will be replaced in time with newer models; he also gave a few words of advice on how to take care of a 'phone.

Final arrangements were completed by president Paul Sauerby to take 100 children to Shibe Park, Philadelphia, to see a baseball game between the Athletics and the St. Louis Browns on June 18th.

FALLS TOWNSHIP TO HAVE ZONING LAW

Supervisors Preparing To Have Law Drafted By Solicitor

LICENSE TAXICABS

FALLSINGTON, June 16 — The supervisors of Falls Township report making progress in having the township readied for a zoning and building code. Fred W. Beans, Raymond Pope, Charles Shisler, Lewis Bellardo and Herbert Bowen have been named as a committee with Beans serving as chairman.

Chairman Beans and the committee will procure one to lay the township out in various districts and then a public hearing will be held. Following the public hearing, the Supervisors will instruct its solicitor to prepare a Zoning Ordinance.

Harrison H. Carver, chairman; Clifford Watson and Charles Appenzeller are the supervisors who authorized the preparation of the zoning and building code which will be discussed at the public hearing to be held in the near future.

The need for zoning has long been felt since the township is largely agricultural with Kings, Starkey, Patterson and the PM Vegetable and produce farms having large land holdings in the area.

Following in the footsteps of other communities the Supervisors also passed an ordinance which will license taxicabs operating in and out of the township.

The license fee is $25 for each cab and the local township officials took action similar to that taken by Morrisville Borough Council and the city of Trenton.

GRAVEST QUESTION

Is there any fire under all the smoke of rumor swathing the huge shape of the B-36 bomber?
The House Armed Services Committee has been ordered to find out and has been equipped with the necessary power to subpoena witnesses and records.

In the resolution adopted by the House, the committee is instructed to inquire into "all facts relating to when this bomber was purchased, any cancellation of other aircraft procurement that may have resulted from such purchases."

That appears to be sufficiently comprehensive to insure a thorough investigation.

It at least offers enough latitude so that all the facts bearing on the relations between Defense
Secretary Johnson, President
Floyd Odlum of Consolidated
Vultee, and Air Secretary Symington can be brought out. Will the inquiry also settle the question of whether the B-36 is invulnerable to jet fighters?

How the decision to concentrate on the B-36 came to be made is of great importance. The public is entitled to know whether any factors other than the military effectiveness of this plane had any bearing on the matter.
But the most important question is: Was it wise to single out the B-36 above other weapons and were those who made the choice justified?

It is the duty of the committee to recognize to the full the gravity of its task and insist on getting them straight. It could hardly have a heavier responsibility.
The safety of the nation may rest on its collective shoulders.

PURGE IN RUSSIA

In spite of the efforts of the Soviet government to keep the world in the dark on what goes on in Russia, there is evidence available indicating a political purge is taking place in the Soviet Union.

At least 300,000 members of the communist party have been expelled, including several who were high in the councils of the party. Many have just dropped out of sight.

The Russian people are becoming restless under the communist yoke. Voice of America broadcasts are having an effect upon the people's morale. To offset this Moscow is increasing its propaganda.

Soviet citizens who claim to have visited America report in a magazine article that wretched poverty is the rule here. This is merely a mild sample of the lies deliberately designed to misin-form the Russian people.

Full significance of the present purge cannot be understood at this time. But there is proof that a wholesale shakeup is taking place, proof that all is not going well for the Soviet regime. Forced labor camps and prisons are increasing. The day of another Russian revolution cannot be delayed indefinitely.

Model Plane Meet To Be Held July 4th

mouth Dealers furnishing the balance.

The meet will start at 8 a. m. and is scheduled to continue until every contestant has flown his plane, late in the afternoon. Registrations will be accepted on the field the day of the meet. The Navy will throw open its hangars and workshops for the use of the modelers throughout the day.

The Navy's display is slated to include pilotless missiles, bombs developed by the Navy, a captured Japanese kamikaze plane, and the new P2V-2 Lockheed long-range patrol craft. The latter is identical with the Truculent Turtle which recently established the world's record for a long distance non-stop flight.

Another exhibit will be a Grumman F5F, the last propeller-type plane developed by the Navy. All planes and exhibits may be viewed by the public.

Squadrons of Navy planes will drone over the field at intervals during the meet, and volunteer Navy personnel will police the field and aid in the handling of crowds. In addition, Pennsylvania State Police will be on hand to direct traffic in the vicinity of the meet. Extra Route 74 buses will be provided by the Philadelphia Transportation Co. to take spectators and contestants from Willow Grove to the air field. True to the tradition of these hobbyists, the meet will be held rain or shine.

Naval authorities will provide facilities for the convenience of visitors, and the Red Cross any needed first aid. Food will be supplied by the Navy at cost. Eleven stands will be spotted over the 260-acre field, stocked with "hot dogs", milk, cookies, candy and ice cream. Admission to the show is free.

In welcoming the hundreds of model plane contestants, along with the thousands of enthusiasts who follow the sport, Capt. E. W. Rounds, commanding officer of the station said, "We believe that the modelers of today are the airplane designers of tomorrow, and the Navy welcomes the opportunity to play host for this important model airplane meet. It seems particularly appropriate that such an event should be held on Independence Day."

Women Agree to Sponsor Boys' Club in Autumn

The Women's Auxiliary of Fleetwing Estates met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Harrison.

After the meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Carl Lindberg, Mrs. Robert Hyatt, secretary, reported on facilities for a group outing. It was found that only a few members would be able to go on the tentative date of June 25th, and it was agreed to postpone the trip until fall.

Information about Cub Scouts was given, after the treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. William Eckstein. Members decided against trying to form a cub pack at present since only about three boys here would be eligible.

Paul Nicholas, Airacobra street, told the women about his plan for a club in the Estates, for boys from about six to 11 years. Mr. Nicholas has had considerable experience working with boys; in Lansdowne he organized a small group of boys in a cub pack which grew to over 300 membership. He said he would like to organize a group of boys here, in the fall, to take up many subjects which are also found in Scouting: hobbies, outdoor games and activities, nature study, etc.

The women expressed themselves as in favor of such a club, and agreed to sponsor the organization when formed. The first Saturday after school starts was suggested as the best time for the first meeting of the boys. A contest for the best name for the club will be held then, in which the Auxiliary will offer $1 to the boy submitting the winning name.

Summer creative classes for the boys and girls in the Estates will not be held until after the end of Vacation Bible School Registration and the first classes will be during the first week in August.

Chiffon cream and two cakes, one decorated with a flag in honor of Flag Day, were served by Mrs. Harrison at the end of the meeting.

Holding their final meeting of the year at Bowman's Hill, Monday about 30 members of the Doylestown Nature Club learned that the club was the only one in the county federation which held a plant exchange section.

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. William P. Brandes; vice presidents, Mrs. Theodore H. Weller and Mrs. John H. Elfin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Knickerbocker Davis; treasurer, Miss Paula Chiff, with the recording secretary to be elected later.

Past President Mrs. Ralph T. McComas and delegates to the county federation meeting presented reports which recalled achievements of the year.

Mrs. Holmes gave a talk concerning the educational value of the park to the community and to the country at large. She said few people are aware of the broad

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THE housewife who is both efficient and energetic can invariably be distinguished by her ability to skillfully blend brevity, variety and economy into the preparation of fine meals for her family. To maintain this reputation she carefully husbands a store of menus specifically designed to emphasize these qualities.

Baked meat pie, prepared according to recommendations of the A & P Service for Homemakers, is certain to prove a welcome addition to such a collection. Speed of preparation, coupled with real economy, keynotes this meal.

It is based on a combination of the housewife's favorite canned stew, biscuit mix and various condiments and seasonings, with several variations suggested for use according to individual tastes.

First empty a can of the canned stew as needed into a baking dish. Then prepare a crust from a biscuit mix and cover stew. Place in a hot (450°F.) oven and let bake for about 20 minutes. To add greater interest and flavor the housewife might add a teaspoon of celery seed to the mixture before blending it with the liquid. Another variation calls for the addition of chopped parsley or caraway seeds. Also possible is the addition of a pinch of a favorite herb, curry or paprika. Tomato juice, used as the liquid for mixing the biscuit topping, will add both color and flavor to the pie.

Preceded by a fruit cocktail and served with creamed new peas, baked potatoes and a spring salad bowl, this meal will offer a welcome respite to both the housewife's budget and back.

scope of its influence, citing as an example, that recently they had a request for seed from Norway. She also said the botany departments of practically every college in this section of the country contact them as consultants.

Before the meeting closed, it was decided that the club sponsor the Blue Bell trail for a period of three years, pledging $10 annually as well as plant material and work from the members.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Burpee and Miss Anna Bowley, the women explored several of the beautiful wild flower trails.

SERVING FAMILY, COMMUNITY, NATION...

Did you ever stop to think that we live, we learn, we travel — all through the pages of the newspaper we read! How much broader is the scope of our lives, because we can read about the wide world in newsprint. How much more we know about people and politics; child care and cooking; health and happiness — because our newspaper covers everything! Its editorial columns better our way of life, too, by championing the democratic way when vital issues face us as a family — as a community — as a nation! ## AUSTRIAN TEEN-AGER GIVES IMPRESSIONS

Eighteen-year old Ferdinanda Popper recently returned to her home in Vienna following a visit to the United States as a representative of her high school.

(In the following article Miss Popper tells about "forgetting" her intentions to be sophisticated and just "having a grand time" with American teenagers. She compares American and Austrian boys and girls and relates how the Americans were "horrified" to find that co-education was non-existent for most Austrian high-schoolers.—INS)

By Ferdinanda Popper
(Written especially for INS)
VIENNA, (INS) — June 16 — A few weeks ago I came back from the United States. During my three-month stay I visited many American high schools all over the country, from New York to Los Angeles, and lived with many different families. Therefore, I had a good opportunity to get to know American teenagers.

I am a teenager myself, but I was struck by the differences in life and mentality between the European and American youngsters. School life is much more fun for the kids in the States than for the majority of European students. First of all, there is co-education. Most of the American students were horrified, when I told them that only a very small percentage of the Austrian schools are co-educational.

The boys could not imagine going to school without their lovely school-mates for whom they can show off their skill in sports. And the girls would not know for whom to make themselves pretty at school—why to wear lipstick and nail polish, if it were not for their "football heroes."

Are the American teen-age boys much different from the boys in Austria? I think they are, in some ways. When they are together with girls they are more natural than Austrian boys are. I think the reason for this is American co-education.

Boys are used to being together with girls and therefore they don't try to be as sophisticated as Austrian boys, who just see their girls for a Saturday date in most cases. Also I think American boys are more forward than our boys are.

In Austria a boy occasionally kisses his girl's hand when he says good-night after a date. In America a boy would not think of passing by the goodnight kiss that he gets after a date.

Are American girls more sophisticated than Austrian girls? Well, I really don't think so. When I came to the U. S. I always tried to behave like a lady, but when I saw how much fun the American girls have — just laughing and carrying on like children, I forgot all about my intention of being sophisticated and had a good time with them, just like the rest of the gang.

I would say in general that I didn't find too much sophistication among American teenage girls and I thought it was much nicer that way.

As for American kids being spoiled I think there is plenty of reason for them to be. Nevertheless, although most of the time somebody is around who is willing to fulfill their wishes and do things for them, I still don't think they are spoiled.

Generally speaking, I would say that the Austrians are trained better in scholastic knowledge, but American teenagers are far ahead of us socially.

I loved the gaiety and carefreeness of American school kids. Their worries don't go much farther than winning or losing the next basketball game or what to wear at the next dance.

Someone who comes to the States for a very short time might get the impression that American teenagers only have very superficial interests and that they are a little immature.

The circumstances under which they grow up are the reasons for that. Most of them are raised in sheltered atmospheres and their parents take good care of them. Therefore they are not quite as serious as European adolescents who experienced the horrors of a cruel war and learned to worry about life and hunger.

But this air of superficiality fades away when you get to know them better. You find that some of them work in their free time to make money for buying food and clothes for friends they have in Europe.

It amazed me how deeply interested the youngsters are in world affairs and how enthusiastically willing they are to cooperate in whatever way possible to help the growth of international friendship among young people.

They welcomed me and 33 other European students from 16 different countries with open arms, open minds and open hearts. It didn't matter to them what country we came from as long as we were "swell pals."

My American friends took me to dances, basketball games and soda-fountains, where I, for the first time in my life had one of their "ice cream sodas." They showed me around their home cities, showed me the "Empire State building" in New York and the "Beach of the Pacific" in Los Angeles.

I hope maybe some American kids will read this article. In that case, let me address this to the American teenagers:

"Hi, gang! An Austrian girl thinks a great deal of you. Thanks once more for all your friendliness. Believe me, I'll always stick up for my American friends, the teenagers. So long for awhile till I come back to see you on the other side of the pool that separates us physically but not mentally.

"And let's not forget our experiences in international friendship. Let the spirit of it linger in our minds so that through mutual friendship and understanding we may attain a world of friendship and lasting peace."

Get Rid of Extra Pounds

Courtesy Helene Rubinstein

Even though you have a lovely figure, exercise is needed to keep it that way. A famous New York Salon recommends the one shown here.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IF your curves are curvier than you want them to be, you can bump them off. Reducing exercises are a favorite indoor sport since summer

fashions show frocks with neater waistlines than ever before. "My dear, you should have absolutely no tummy at all, just be flat prairie south of the belt!" The cure for bulges is painless, all you have to do is to put your muscles to work, and they will dispel the fat cells. Adipose tissues seek a lazy, peaceful life. They don't like activity. They go off and die. You can grind them down to nothing by bumping yourself.

To reduce hips and thighs sit down on the floor, hands braced behind you. Lift up on toes and hands, then come down on your derriere with a good hard smack. Up on the hands and toes again, arching the body. After ten or twelve lifts, lie on your back, swing the left leg far to the right, rolling hard on your hip as you turn. Ten times with the left leg, ten with the right and repeat.

Over-Developed Arms

If you are afflicted with over-developed upper arms lie on the floor, feet close together, hands clasped on your chest. Roll from side to side, giving the arms a good smart spanking against the floor.

These exercises are recommended for localized fat. If there is too much plumpness all over, you will need to be a diet-watcher. Cut down on fats, starches and sweets—you probably get more of these elements than you need anyway—and live mainly on lean meat, poultry, fish that is not fat, green salads, fruits and vegetables. No need of starving. No need of feeling like a martyr.

Take tea and coffee clear because cream and sugar are your enemies. Don't let anybody tempt you when the pastries are served. Drink buttermilk and unsweetened lemonade; they are good for you.

COTTON LEADS THE CHOICE FOR SPORTS APPAREL FOR SUMMER

By Miss Francis Vannoy
Home Economics Representative
Today's shopper has a wide variety of casual, attractive, and comfortable clothes from which to choose for the summer days ahead. Cotton is probably the leading fabric for play clothes. Look for the words vat-dyed, sanforized, and crease-resistant when selecting garments or material by the yard. Women should also look for the words "wrinkle-shed" on cottons advertised for rainy weather wear. These features have done much to promote cottons for sportswear.

For active sportswear women are advised to look over the new long pedal-pushers, slacks, and shorts in sturdy cotton gabardine and denim. For swimming there are bathing suits of cotton, rayon, nylon, and wool. Designers are showing many terry cloth swim suits, stoles, and short beach coats.

Play shoes are available in gay, multi-colored styles or solid reds and blues, or in soft pastel shades. Straw or raffia seems to be the trend in handbags and shoes. Satchel type handbags seem to be most popular for casual fashions.

Style experts are featuring cotton peasant skirts for the young crowd to wear for square dancing. White cotton petticoats with ruffles or eyelet trim; and blouses of frilly batiste with plenty of lace and eyelet trim are designed to be worn with the skirts.

But remember, always wear what is most becoming regardless of what is popular. The person who is well dressed chooses clothes that suit her own figure and personality.

Mrs. Vavrik, who said her husband deserted her April 27, admitted under cross-examination that she threw a chair into the Christmas tree, threw a stool at him while she was lying on the floor and he was "kicking" her, hurled a "small" coffee pot at him which missed him but sailed into the window breaking the windowpane. Another time, she said, she threw a cup or two while very angry.

"Your hands aren't very clean," said Judge Keller, who dismissed the case and refused to make an order on the husband.

"Do you mean to imply that my hands are dirty?" Mrs. Vivrak, stopping dead in her tracks as she left the witness stand, turned and asked the Court.

"You certainly annoyed and irritated your husband. When you come to court you want to be sure that your hands are pretty clean," the Court retorted.

"My lawyer isn't here now or he would have something to say for me," said the young prosecutrix as she walked out of the court room.

The defendant-husband, who resides on Ferry road, near Point Pleasant, did not testify since a divorce action is pending.

"What will I live on?" the actress wife asked.

"Your trouble is 50 per cent on your side and 50 per cent on your husband's side, so the Court will make no order at this time," Judge Keller ruled.

Make Pretty Lips Prettier With a Cheerful Expression

Whether you use a brush or lipstick, be thorough in applying your lip make-up. Movie Star Deborah Kerr says, and spread it evenly.

By HELEN FOLLETT

TINTING the lips with the ruby pencil makes pretty lips look prettier. It also makes a mean mouth look meaner, because it gives accent to it, calls attention to expression. The sad woman should ponder on that subject, endeavor to cultivate pleasing mouth lines. It is easy. All she has to do is to stop being a sour-puss, learn to be sweet. She will not only look better, but she will be happier, and so will the individuals who have to live with her.

Pressing the lips together in a tight line is a habit that does not help one along the beauty way. That expression is worn by the woman who disapproves of just about everything that other people say or do. She should cultivate tolerance. She will be rewarded by a more pleasing reflection in the looking glass.

Spoiled Girl

Fouting lips belong to the spoiled girl who expects to be waited on and who is a "gimme" girl. She believes that the hand of fate is raised against her when, it is likely, the hand of fate is passing along the good things of life to her, which she does not appreciate. She must chuck that pose, and a pose it is, because it isn't pretty. She is another type that must give her lip ends a lift.

Facial expression is pretty much the whole good looks picture. Fine features are a wonderful inheritance for which any good looking girl should be ever grateful. But if you haven't been so blessed you can cultivate a radiance of countenance that will have greater appeal than casual loveliness.

Ply the lipstick; make your mouth as perfect as you can by spreading on the pigment evenly, blending it into the little creases with the lipstick brush. Then make your lips assume charming manners. Keep smiling. Smile when you are by yourself. That is good practice. Be ever mindful of the expression of your mouth. Also, keeping lip ends lifted strengthens the facial muscles.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Herbert Leswing, Jr., Rector
Church of The Redeemer
(Episcopal)
Andalusia, Pa.

MARI GETS BAD BREAKS; ST. ANN'S LOSES TO AMERICAN

"Lou" Mari had all the bad "breaks" last evening on Memorial Park field as St. Ann's A. A. bowed to the American Steel team, 8-2, in an Industrial League game. The victory strengthened American Steel's hold on first place in the circuit.

For five frames Mari blanked his Jersey foes while his team built up a 2-0 lead and tossed away several other runs by weird base running. Then everything went wrong. Lou walked a batter and another got on via an error. Joe Durcann stepped to the plate and slapped an ordinary single to left but the ball took a bad hop over Clatella's head and rolled to the fence for a home run. It was the Steelers' third hit of the contest.

An error and a triple by "Lou" Clatella gave American Steel another run in the seventh while two errors added another in the eighth. In the final inning, American Steel scored three times after two were out.

The "Saints" had jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first on a hit by Tony Palumbo, a sacrifice by "Chuck" Klein, a single to left by Joe Elmer and a hit by Joe Sallustio. Sallustio over-ran second and was called safe but after a conference the two umpires called him out for not following the bag.

In the fifth, Mari opened with a triple but was out on the next play. Linder to Durcann. Palumbo went to second on the play. Klein beat out a hit but Palumbo was trapped at third and put out at the plate.

In the sixth, Fred Barbetta connected with a tremendous drive that hit the fence in left field for a triple. But neither Lou Sassi nor "Chick" Clatella could score him.

"Norm" Jones had fine control for the Steelers, giving up but two passes in the nine innings.

Joe Myernich led the batters of the tilt with three out of five. He also reached base on an error.

ST. ANN'S WINS OVER FLEETWING ESTATES

Another over-time tilt was played in the Suburban Softball League last evening as St. Ann's A. A. won over Fleetwing Estates on the latter's field. Final score was 7-5.

The "Saints" had to fight uphill to capture the tilt as Estates came from behind twice to tie the count. Estates was trailing, 3-0, and tied it with two runs in the fourth. After St. Ann's went ahead, 5-3, the ultimate losers scored in the fifth and sixth to knot the count.

Joe Schreiber started the over-time session with a base hit to center. "Pete" DeLuca beat out a bunt and both advanced on Tony Zanni's error. Ted Sak then drove in both men with a single to the short-field. The markers were the four runs driven in by Sak as his double accounted for two in the first inning.

"Monnie" Denny pitched for the winners while Estates had three hurlers, Ritter, Little, and Zanni.

Larry Harrison had four out of four for Estates while Schreiber had three out of four for the winners.

BRISTOL MOOSE KEEPS IN LEAD OF LEAGUE

Behind the fine two-hit hurling of "Chick" Stansky, Bristol Moose defeated Darby Moose by the shut-out score of 7 to 0. The leading batters of the game were "Steve" Masne, "Bud" Crobe and "Boots" Wilkinson with two hits apiece.

The fielding gem of the game was pulled by "Boots" Wilkinson when he raced into the foul territory in right field and caught a ball half-way up an embankment.

This win gives the Bristol Lodge a record of two wins and no defeats to keep them in the lead in the Eastern Moose Softball League.

Sunday Bristol plays at Phoenixville and the players are requested to be at the Moose Home at 11:30 a. m. The bus will leave promptly at that time.

team. Rubino had 11 strikeouts and whiffed the side in the fourth.

Third Ward Eagles and Bristol Township played a close game on the Third Ward field with the Eagles finally winning out, 7-4. It was the second straight loss for Township.

Manager "Wes" Williamson boys tossed a scare into the Warders in the fifth when they took advantage of Downs' wildness to register four runs and cut a 5-0 lead to 5-4. The Eagles scored twice in the sixth to clinch the game. Wren and Kornstedt had base hits in this frame.

Bell's Aces played their opening game of the circuit and lost to the Newportville Redskins, 7-3. Paul Schmitt scored his second mound triumph of the infant season in beating the Aces.

The Redskins' moundsmen allowed Bell's but three scored hits and fanned five batters. Wilson and Higby did the hill work for the losers with the defeat being charged to Wilson.

Manager Herman Steubing's lads only had six hits but bunched these in the early frames to score six of their seven runs. Both "Eddie" Oliver and "Al" Bader had two hits each.

Youth Parade Attracts Many From This Area

stances to "spruce" them up for the gala occasion. There were live turtles, a crated duck, gold-fish in a bowl, kittens, and toy animals galore such as teddy bears, dogs, pandas, and the like. An unusually large number of girls and boys rode bicycles, gaily trimmed.

All wards in Bristol participated with the exception of the second ward.

At the head of the procession rode the marble champion of 1949 for this area, Louis H. Dixey, Jr., 12 years old, of Ford and Old Rogers roads, Bristol township. He carried in his hand the trophy awarded him. The senior cadet corps (overseas unit), Robert W. Bracken Post, was next in line. The first ward was headed by Marshals John H. Brehm and Ray Klepczynski. Then came the girls and boys of the first wards. Although this group had no special "uniform", they did have a fine array of pets.

Third ward colors were red, white and blue, these colors being carried out in hats, shoulder bands, and American flags which they carried. This group was marshalled by Arthur Zug and Neil Traas. Terchon Post Jr. Cadet Drum & Bugle Corps members wore white blouses or shirts and dark skirts or trousers.

Fourth ward had the traditional color scheme of the ward, with green paper hats trimmed in gold harps, shamrocks, etc. Their shoulder bands were also of green. Heading this group as marshals were C. Johnson and Harry Weissaw. The locomotive of Bucks Volture 929, 40' n' s attracted much attention, and the whistle was frequently blown to the amusement of the crowd.

A large bicycle delegation was noticeable from the fifth ward. Red, white and blue were colors used for trim of the bicycles, and hats were white with green piping. One exhibit in this delegation which attracted much attention was a "one man" drum corps, a little boy in an express wagon keeping busy playing a bass drum and a snare drum. One of the girls bore a large wreath of pink roses. Marshalling this division were Marvel Durham and William Alderdice.

This ward was sponsored by Fifth Ward Sporting Club, the Moose, and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Sons of Italy.

Next came troop 7 of the Boy Scouts.

WASHINGTON WEEK

By CHARLES L. EGENROAD

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16—Democrats and Republicans in the 81st Congress, who have received tongue lashings and worse from President Truman because their opinions of what is best for the nation differ from those of the Chief Executive, are wondering if Mr. Truman has forgotten that for which he said we fought the last war.

Those Democrats who have felt the sting of Mr. Truman's patronage purge and the Republicans who have been called "worse" by the White House are on the verge of making the President "eat some of his own words."

Seven years ago, the then Senator Truman of Missouri, arose in the Senate and spoke glowingly about the rights of Americans. Senators in particular, to disagree with their President whenever they felt like it without suffering the label of disloyalty as long as their differences were honest ones.

War for Right to Disagree

In fact, Senator Truman underscored the idea that we fought the last war to preserve the right to have differences of opinions in this country.

Because Mr. Truman has so completely reversed his position since becoming President and has so violently chastised all those in or out of Congress who do not adhere to his dictates, his "whipping boys" in Congress have dug up the words of the past to haunt their former colleague.

It all happened on February 3, 1942, and can be found on page 950 of the Congressional Record, Volume 88, part One.

The late President Roosevelt, himself possessor of a violent tongue for those who differed with him, had threatened recriminations against the then Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, because the latter did not see eye-to-eye with the White House on certain matters. Senator Truman promptly became the champion of American rights although he boldly proclaimed he subscribed to Mr. Roosevelt's policies otherwise.

Truman Differed With F. D. R.

The Senator from Missouri, who had not the slightest idea at that time that he ever would be in a position to hold the whip, arose in defense of Senator Wheeler's right to differ with the President.

The stinger came in the last two sentences of the Truman speech which the downtrodden Democrats and the Republicans are now trotting out for haunting purposes:

"It is time that men cease to challenge the patriotism and loyalty of some of their fellow Americans simply because on some issue of the present day there happens to be some difference of opinion and an honest difference."

"It is to preserve the right to hold differences of opinion that we are entered upon the mightiest effort of our national career."

History will say we won that mighty effort, but some of us will always wonder.

NEW YORK. — (INS)—Although American tea cups aren't showing it, there is a nationwide tea shortage, according to the New York Journal of Commerce. Nations feeling the pinch are Australia and England, highest per-capita tea drinking nations.

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—(INS)—Marine Pfc. Arthur A. Mathison of Little Falls, N. Y., is only following family tradition. His grandfather, father and four uncles were 20-year men in the corps, and four brothers were or still are in the marines.

PONTIAC

A Product of General Motors

Two of America's Most Popular Motor Cars

Pictured above are typical examples of the two smart and separate lines of cars which bear the current imprint of Pontiac goodness—the Streamliner and the Chieftain De Luxe Sedan Coupes.

Each is in such demand that, on its own, it ranks among America's most popular cars today. That two cars of such decidedly different appearance should each enjoy such wide acceptance is easy to explain. THEY'RE BOTH PONTIAC!

While each has its own individualized smartness, both offer all the great basic Pontiac virtues. Both are conspicuously beautiful. Both carry the well-known promise of Pontiac quality—long life, dependability, and fine performance. Both afford the smooth, enjoyable performance of Pontiac's two great engines—the power-packed straight eight or its equally famous six-cylinder companion.

Finally, both represent unusual values—a very fine product at a very low price. Either one you choose will make you mighty happy.

Hydra-Matic Drive, white sidewall tires, bumper using guards and fender shields available at extra cost.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By John Harms
(1 N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, June 16—(INS)—If you think your pasture is greener than your neighbor's you have an opportunity to prove it.
The Pennsylvania Production and Marketing Administration has set a deadline for entry into the 1949 Green Pastures contest for June 9. Area winners will be announced August 29, final winners August 25.
An added feature to the current contest will give new farmers or those that have just begun to lay tress on pasture a better opportunity to make a good showing or win, according to Administrator Hyde A. Zehner.
He called the new plan an "incentive" and said the PMA is encouraging county committees to earmark a portion of Federal funds for use to buy lime and super-phosphates for distribution to farmers who enter the contest.
The pasture strengtheners will be old to entrants on a 40-60 formula farmers pay 40 cents out of each dollar and governmental funds absorb the remaining 60 cents, Zehner said.
The Lebanon County Committee already has approved the plan and there are in the process of setting up the machinery, he added.
Zehner said the contest, which comes two years old this year, is a "great deal of interest in the ranks of ex-servicemen farmers. Several of last year's winners were veterans," he declared.
"Former servicemen take their farming very seriously and indicating to Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst. He said dairy farming gross income amounted to "more than $300,000,000 in 1948."

Ivan E. Parkin, extension dairy specialist at the Pennsylvania State College, has labeled a series of State-wide clinics on proper operation and care of milking machines a great success.
More than 6,155 persons, mostly farmers, attended the clinics. Many of them have reported improved operation of their machines and production of cleaner milk, Parkin said.

SCOUTS TO HOLD HUGE MASS ASSEMBLY SOON

Event Will Take Place Saturday and Sunday at Scout Camp

INCLUDES ALL DISTRICTS

The Scouts and Scouters of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a huge mass assembly at Camp Ockanickon next Saturday and Sunday, June 18th and 19th. This event, known as the Council Camporee, will include boy scouts troops from all Districts of the County and will be a camping event upon which each troop's camping skills will be judged by experts in the various phases of the out of doors skills needed in a Boy Scout troop.

This event will be open to the public and will start at 1:00 p. m. on Saturday, June 18th and carries through the night. This event will come under the Council Camping & Activities Committee with Dr. A. J. Strathie, Chairman, Chief of the Judging Committee will be John Burtonwood, Assistant District Commissioner, of the Lower Bucks District.

In an unprecedented move, the Boy Scouts of America has lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting, effective next September 1.

In announcing the far-reaching change authorized by the National Executive Board of the organization Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said the decision was reached after a three years' exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents. After September 1, boys may become Cub Scouts at eight years of age instead of nine; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve and Explorer Scouts at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

The program known as Senior Scouting, Dr. Schuck announced, now becomes "Exploring" with its scope broad enough to include land, sea and air activities as well as life exploration. Units specializing in seamanship or in aviation will be known as Explorer Ships or Explorer Squadrons, respectively.
